Introductions

School Report: Mr. Hodson

Standards Based Report Card

- Currently this is a site-based decision; school can decide if they want to implement it and to what degree (certain grades, whole school, etc.)
- Could potentially move to a district decision
- Highland is not going to make the change this year. Traditional report cards will continue through the rest of this year. We will continue to discuss and then make a decision for next year at the end of the year.
- A discussion was held about it during professional development, and for the most part, teachers do not want to change at this point. There are a few that would like to. However, if parents and students wanted a change, they would be willing to.

Shared Vision to Lead Learning from ASD (see handout)

- What we want students to know is broken down into knowledge, skills, and dispositions.
- Gives ASD a shared vision of what we're all about.

SAGE Data

- We haven't changed much in opt-out numbers.
- ALL classes... 100% proficiency in all our ALL classes in math and language arts, and close in science.
- We had a decline overall in language arts, but we also started really high. We've maintained our scores in math and science. One of our goals is to do a little better in language arts.
- Highland did great in growth.

DIBELS

- Highland did quite well compared to other schools in our demographic.

21st Century Learning Training

- Skills that are important for kids to learn in today's world.
- Mr. Hodson currently participating in trainings.
